

COPY PROTECTION

This patented technology prevents unauthorized duplication of media. This technology can be used to protect movies and games distributed on optical disks, as well as other forms of content on other types of media.