

LIGHTING CONTROL

This patented technology generally relates to energy saving and control features of residential and commercial electrical lighting circuits and switches.