

MEDICAL IMAGE STABILIZATION

This patented technology generally relates to technology that can be used in stabilizing medical images for interventional procedures such as cardiac catheters and stents, and for diagnostic procedures such as visualization of arterial lesions.