

PARALLEL PROCESSING WITH SHARED MEMORY

This patented technology generally relates to a parallel processor comprising multiple processing elements capable of performing parallel operations with access to shared memory. This technology may be applicable to computing systems, game consoles and graphic processing.