

POINTING DEVICE

This patented technology generally relates to technology for hand held devices that include pointing devices, such as a joy stick, capable of carrying out multiple user selectable functions.