

USER PROGRAMMABLE ENGINE CONTROL

This patented technology generally relates to the user interface for the engine control module (ECM) and offers control and calibration of the ECM including input and output parameters controlling engine performance.